THE NEW SPEAKER

His Views About Expansion Have Materially Changed.

CHINA WANTS TO BE HEARD

Anderson's Salute to Aguinaldo—Negroes Will Vote—Christian Science Case.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—General Henderson's hold upon his party is so strong and the Republican majority so large that he may attempt great things in Congress.

He holds that the United States is not a cheap country, and that legislation should be shaped on a large and liberal scale. He is in favor of developing American commerce, and approves the building of the Nicaraguan Canal.

In regard to the Philippines, General Henderson has somewhat modified his views. A year ago he was not quite sure that the United States should retain the islands, or even continue the war. His speech in the House during the last session was pointedly anti-imperialistic, and even anti-expansion.

DAVID B. HENDERSON.

Since that time, however, he has altered his opinions. The developments of the last year have impressed upon him the necessities of certain conditions, and he has discarded the theoretical and accepted the practical view of the situation.

He has always favored liberal Civil War pensions, and has never been able to understand how anyone could oppose applications from all widows, orphans and other dependents of the men who fought to make and keep the nation what it is. On the pension question he has made his worst enemies.
The granting of liberal pensions will not be checked on account of General Henderson's election to the Speakership.

CHINA WANTS A HAND.

Surprised That She is Not Consulted About Her Fate.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 1.—The plan put forward in the London cables of a treaty between the Powers defining spheres of influence in China has caused great interest in diplomatic circles.

"This is about the most refreshing suggestion we have had of late," remarked Wu Ting Fang, the Chinese Minister. "What can it be seriously proposed that a document shall be formally drawn up concerning interests in China, and China shall not be a party to it?"

"It cannot have escaped attention that China is a sovereign nation, and when it comes to writing treaties concerning her interests and territory this sovereign nation is quite likely to have considerable to say on the subject. I hardly think any of the great and self-respecting powers would give countenance to a plan such as is outlined. It is as though a party of your neighbors met and agreed how they would occupy your house. One would take the front door, another would select the side door, others would appropriate certain rooms. And all this without consulting you, the owner of the house."

"But the suggestions of a treaty of this nature seem altogether visionary to me."

It is almost certain that this Government would not enter upon such an agreement, but would merely insist upon the maintenance of her treaty rights.

None of the foreign embassies has any instructions regarding the prospect of such an agreement.

AGUINALDO A "GENERAL"

Gen. Anderson Says This Was Common Form of Salute.

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—Gen. Thomas M.
Anderson, commander of the Department of the Lakes, speaking of the address issued by the Filipino junta at Hongkong, admitted that he had addressed Aguinaldo as "commanding general, Philippine forces," and asked the assistance of Aguinaldo against the common enemy.

Gen. Anderson said:
"It was a common form of salutation used by all generals commanding

United States troops during correspondence with the Philippine leader. All this correspondence is on record. I praised Aguinaldo for his bravery in fighting the common enemy in the same letter in which I stated my inability to recognize his civil authority."

The entire correspondence of Gen.
Anderson, as well as the correspondence of Gen. Merritt, with Aguinaldo is printed in the message of the President to the Senate giving details of the treaty with Spain.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CASE.

Mrs. Woodbury Drops Proceedings Against Mrs. Eddy.

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—The contempt proceedings against Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, which grew out of the libel suit of Woodbury vs. Eddy, were dramatically interrupted today in the supreme court.
After calling witnesses in support of his petition for contempt against Mrs.
Eddy, counsel for Mrs. Josephine Woodbury stated to the court that candor compelled him to announce that he failed to show any connection between Mrs. Eddy and the publication of articles complained of, and therefore he would not further press his contempt petition. Mrs. Woodbury, at the suggestion of her counsel, made a statement to the court, in which she said:
"With no contempt in my heart, there could be none in my action. It is the prerogative of Christian Science so alleged, to judge an individual by her motives. I am willing to be judged by mine. If I have erred, it is true ignorance. I deeply regret such a mistake if it has been such. I do most sincerely apologize for the necessity of this proceeding, and await your honor's decision."

After hearing her statement and the remarks of her counsel, Judge Bradley said he would suspend the hearing until tomorrow.

NEGROES WILL VOTE.

A Disfranchising Measure is Beaten in Georgia.

ATLANTA, Dec. 1.—The Hardwick bill, introduced into the lower house of the general assembly for the purpose of placing such limitations on the negro vote in this state as to practically disfranchise the colored voter, was overwhelmingly defeated today, the result of the ballot being 130 to 3. The result was a surprise, as it was expected the measure would receive strong support.

COST HIS JOB.

Government Employee Tried to Get Up a Filibustering Party.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Gustav Theilkuhl, an employee in the patent office, who recently advertised in local newspapers for able-bodied men of military experience to go to the Transvaal to enlist with the Boers, resigned today. An investigation of his connection with the filibustering expedition was made by the commissioner of patents, and the man, it is stated, was about to be dismissed from the department.

DEED OF TRUST.

A deed of trust to the First American Bank of Hawaii has been executed by the Hilo Railroad Company, involving its franchise, rights of way and property now in its possession or hereafter to be acquired for $450,000 six per cent bonds. These are payable ten years from the date of the trust deed, and are due ten years from that time.
The document states that half the grading is finished and much of the material for constructing the road is already in Hilo, while the machinery for the shops is expected there soon.

The railroad has valuable long-time contracts for hauling for the plantations along the line of the road, which will insure to the company a steady and large income. Oha plantation acting in conjunction with the railroad is in need of the road to carry the enormous amount of material required for erecting the buildings and placing the machinery. The road will probably be completed through Oha in about six months.

PINGREE TO SUE.

Will Bring Action Against a Detroit Newspaper.

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 1.—Announcement was made today that libel suits amounting to $450,000 were about to be begun against the Detroit Free Press by Governor Pingree and others.
Governor Pingree claims $250,000, Assistant Corporation Counsel C. D. Johns, $100,000, and Assistant Corporation Counsel Eli R. Sutton, $100,000.

Speaking editorially tomorrow morning the Free Press will say that, upon the complaints have recited their grievances in court, which they have not done as yet, detailed reply is impossible, but that in all matters in which they have opposed the individuals, the opposition has been for what the Free Press considered the public weal. Personalities were employed no farther than was thought necessary to obtain a righteous end.

Mr. E. C. Shorter, Food Inspector, is engaged in taking samples of alleged butter from Chinese dealers throughout the city. He has now on hand twelve jars of the "queer stuff," said as he was cooking butter, of which analysis will be made at once. The first returns will be made at the end of the month or sooner should the investigation call for immediate action.

HARTWELL'S AIMS

The Unofficial Envoy Explains
Them to a Reporter.

STAYING AT THE SHOREHAM

Wants to be Where He Can Answer Hawaiian Questions That May Arise.

The Washington Evening Star contains the following of local interest:

Gen. A. S. Hartwell, who has been appointed by President Dole and his cabinet to represent the temporary Hawaiian government here in the way of furnishing such information as the government officials or Congress may ask for with reference to Hawaiian affairs, has taken quarters for the winter at the Shoreham. He said today that his mission here was merely to be on hand should any question arise concerning which Congress and the officials were in doubt, to present to them if requested to do so the views of the Hawaiian people and to represent what the Hawaiians were desirous of having a permanent form of government extended to the islands as speedily as possible, and that he had not heard any objections raised to the measure proposed by the Hawaiian commission in the last Congress for this purpose. He thought that all the Hawaiians wanted was that action should not be delayed. With reference to the public lands question he said that there was a great deal of disturbance in Hawaii, many interests being affected and developments retarded by a feeling of uncertainty as to how matters were going to stand. He thought that there were some features of the situation in Hawaii not understood by the government at Washington when the President's proclamation was issued.

A CONTENTION OF DATES.

The Hawaiians contend that the proper date of the establishment of the authority of the United States over Hawaii was the 12th of August, the date on which the American flag was raised and formal possession taken of the islands, instead of the 7th of July, when the Newlands resolution of annexation was approved at Washington.

It appears that the title to considerable property and the value of important franchises depends upon which of these dates is adhered to, franchises having been granted and public lands having been sold between those dates.

SAVED LIEUT. GILMORE.

How Aguinaldo Rescued an American Officer.

MANILA, Dec. 1.—When the landing party of the United States battleship Oregon, under Lieutenant Commander McCracklin, took the town of Vigan, province of South Ilocos, last Sunday they found there an escaped prisoner, Albert Sonnichsen, who furnished the first authentic account of the experience of Lieutenant James C. Gilmore of the United States gunboat Yorktown, who, with a party of the Yorktown's crew, was captured by the insurgents near Baler, on the east coast of Luzon, last April while making an examination of the mouth of the river in an armed boat.

Sonnichsen was imprisoned at Abra for a long time with Lieutenant Gilmore and several sailors, but contrived to escape, carrying a concealed note, written in naval cipher, dated, Abra, November 19th, addressed to "Any naval officer," and saying: "You may have perfect confidence in anything the bearer says." The note is signed "Gilmore."

According to Sonnichsen, when Lieutenant Gilmore's launch entered the river from Baler harbor, under cover of Ensign W. H. Standley's gun, the landing was received with three volleys. Two of the Americans were killed and two mortally wounded. Every man was hit, Lieutenant Gilmore receiving a flesh wound in the leg and both his feet stuck fast in the mud. It was a choice between surrender and being slaughtered.

Lieutenant Gilmore asked the terms of release. The insurgents proposed that he should procure the delivery to them of the arms and ammunition of the Spanish garrisons, undertaking, if this were accomplished, to send the Spaniards and Americans to the Yorktown. A sailor of Lieutenant Gilmore's party carried this proposition to the garrison. The Spanish commandant replied that it was an insult to Spanish arms, and expelled the sailor, a Spanish soldier firing on him as he went.

The Americans were then bound hand and foot and taken to San Isidro, when General Luna ordered their execution. They were marched to the plaza, and in the presence of a great crowd were aligned to be executed.

Lieutenant Gilmore said: "As an American officer and gentleman, I protest against being shot with my hands tied."

Aguinaldo interfered and prevented the execution.

When General Lawton approached San Isidro last June, the Americans were removed to Abra, where they were kept confined in cells for two months. Subsequently they were allowed greater liberty, but the report that Lieutenant Gilmore was given a house and servant is untrue. He had the same quarters as the men, and the Americans were given the same allowance as the Spanish prisoners—5 cents a day with which to buy rice and bananas, virtually the only rations.

General Lawton is at Bamban, twenty miles south of Bayamban. He is in telegraphic communication with the insurgents over the wire in their possession, and the commanders of the opposing forces are considering propositions made by telegraph looking to the surrender of the rebels to the Americans.

LEPER CHRISTMAS.

C. B. Reynolds Receives $550 from Wray Taylor.

Wray Taylor yesterday completed his charitable work for the lepers by turning over to C. B. Reynolds, executive officer of the Board of Health, the proceeds of the Lepers' Merry Christmas concert, amounting to $550. Mr. Reynolds will proceed to Molokai sometime during the week to ascertain the best method of making the money distribution among the lepers, and upon his return to Honolulu will make his recommendation for dividing the big sum. Part of the money will probably be given to the Kalihl Receiving Station. The following correspondence passed between Mr. Taylor and Mr.
Reynolds:

Dear Sir: I take pleasure in handing over to you the sum of $550, the net proceeds from the entertainment given in Kaunakapili church, Dec. 6th, for the benefit of the Lepers' Merry Christmas. It is placed in your hands for distribution among the inmates of the Lepers' Settlement, Molokai, as you think best, so that all interested may be benefited. Yours very sincerely, WRAY TAYLOR,
Honolulu, Dec. 11, 1899.

Wray Taylor, Honolulu, Dear Sir: I have much pleasure in acknowledging the receipt of $550 raised by you for the Lepers' Merry Christmas, and on behalf of the Lepers sincerely thanking you and all those who have so generously contributed in various ways to the fund. I shall have much pleasure later on in making known the way the fund has been disposed of. Very sincerely yours,
C. B. Reynolds,
Executive Officer, Board of Health.

SOLDIER MINSTRELS.

Crowded House at the Orpheum Last Evening.

So great was the demand for admission to the Orpheum to witness the minstrel first part by the colored soldiers of the 49th, that every available inch of space in the popular theater was occupied long before the curtain rose, and many were unable to get inside the doors. The boys did first class work all around, and many numbers, notably the contortionist and wire-walker, and also the dancing, were decidedly clever, and were loudly applauded.

Colonel Beck and staff as well as the line officers occupied the boxes and a large number of well known society people were noticed in the front chairs.
It is possible that in view of the big success met with last night, another show will be arranged for this evening. The long list of recalls last night permitted of only one number by the Orpheum company, and the Amazon march by eight Hawaiian girls, followed by a cake walk by the Spencer children fairly brought down the house and sent everybody home thoroughly satisfied.

Artesian Well for Nihau.

There will be shipped to the island of Nihau this morning a complete well boring plant. Several attempts have been made to get artesian water on Nihau with small success. In the uplands there is abundance of rain and the men in charge of the outfit to go by the steamer Mikahala confidently predict a good flow within a short time.
The well will be sunk near the beach, where some years ago Chinese got a flowing well, but of brackish water.
It will now be the work of the new operators to sink to the level of the underlying strata. This has been done where the Chinese stopped. It is deemed there will be no trouble in thus securing fresh water which can be used for agricultural purposes on the island, thereby enhancing its present value.

THE EPISCOPATE

Bishop Willis on Bishop Potter's Visit.

The Local Functionary Denies That His Visitor Wanted Him to Resign.

"There is absolutely no truth whatever in the statement reprinted from a New York paper in your issue of the 8th instant." These words were uttered by Bishop Willis to an Advertiser reporter in an interview yesterday afternoon. "The article bears upon its face the imprint of local manufacture," said the Bishop, "as the words referring to the supervision by the primate of all England, over any part of the world not otherwise covered, would hardly be used by an American, since such a law would include the Philippines as well as Hawaii."

"Regarding Bishop Potter's visit to Honolulu, he came here officially as representative of the Committee on the Increased Responsibility of the Church appointed by the General Convention in 1888, to communicate to me in person the action of the convention in making that appointment. A resolution expressing our entire willingness to bring the Church into union with the Church in America, was carried unanimously by the Synod on the 12th of November. The Archbishop of Canterbury, with whom, so far as the Church of England is concerned, the final authority rests, has already been notified of the wishes of the people, and in my address to the Clergy and Laity of the Diocese, in St. Andrew's Cathedral on April 9th last, I clearly stated that my tenure of office will continue until the House of Bishops in American is ready to consecrate a bishop to succeed me. Dr. Potter's visit had nothing whatever to do with this latter question, nor was the subject spoken of at any time by him. His visit was made for the purpose of obtaining direct information upon the matter of the transfer of the church property."

ANOTHER BLOCK.

The wooden building at the corner of Fort and Beretania, opposite the Progress Block, will be torn down at the beginning of the year to make way for a fine three-story business block of pressed yellow brick, iron and plate glass. The tenants of the present building have all been notified to leave by January 1st, in order that there shall be no delay in the work of demolition.

Upper Fort street will not only be benefitted by the erection of the new block, but the street itself will be widened seventeen feet, in direct line with the fronts of the Progress Block and Orpheum Theater. Beretania street also gains fourteen feet bringing the building into line with the Fire Department on the other main corner.

N. S. Sachs, the present owner of the valuable corner property, has placed the preliminary work of planning the building in the hands of H. L. Kerr & Co., the architects, who expect to have the details fully completed before the work of demolition is finished. The building on both streets will have a flush front, rounding corner, and will be constructed of pressed yellow brick with terra cotta trimmings. The corner will consist mostly of terra cotta.

On the lower floor will be seven stores, two facing on Fort street, four on Beretania, while the largest will occupy the entire corner, with the main entrance on Beretania street. In the rear a large court will be reserved in which warehouses for the storage of goods can be erected should the business demands of the stores make this necessary. The second story will be arranged for offices or hotel rooms as occasion arises, the forty rooms to be arranged in suite or single. The third floor, also containing forty rooms, will be devoted entirely to rooming purposes. Both floors will be thoroughly equipped with toilet and bath rooms, and the entire building arranged with a view of securing as much light and ventilation as possible.

The widening of Fort and Beretania streets by the removal of the old buildings at the Sachs corner and the opposite corner will make a wonderful improvement.

As a result of his careless driving the young man who drove over and injured Miss Wongkong has paid all the expenses incident to the young lady's injuries, and the case was therefore not pressed in the Police Court yesterday morning.

OUR MAUI BUDGET

Teacher's Meeting at Hamakua.

Collapse of Warehouse—Fears that the Bark Colusa Has been Lost at Sea.

MAUI, Dec. 9, 1899.—During Monday, Dec. 4th, the annual convention of Maui teachers took place in the new government school house at Hamakua. It was the largest in respect to attendance and the most interesting in regard to program ever held on the island. For the past five or six years the yearly meetings have been held in Wailuku and the attendance has averaged between thirty and forty.

THE TEACHERS MEET.

Between sixty and seventy teachers and spectators were present at Hamakua last Monday. At 10:20 a. m. the exercises of the day began by a prayer by Dr. E. G. Beckwith. Complimentary remarks as to the influence and progress of Maui conventions by President C. W. Baldwin introduced the following program which was excellently rendered:

- 1.—"Concentration as Applied to Hawaiian Schools."—W. E. Reavis of Lahaina.
- 2.—Reading Books in Hawaiian Schools."—W. C. Crook of Paia.
- 3.—"How to Teach the Geography of Maui."—S. Kellinof of Wailuku.
- 4.—"Botany in Hawaiian Schools."—Miss Simpson of Maunaloa Seminary.
- 5.—"Grammar in Hawaiian Schools."—J. A. Moore of Wailuku.
- 6.—"Elementary Science in Hawaiian Schools."—J. H. Nishwitz of Kula.
- Intermission till 1:30 p. m.
- 8.—Reading Minutes of the '98 Meeting.—Secretary S. Kellinof.
- 9.—"Industrial Education."—C. W. Baldwin of Kaupakalua.
- 10.—"Lauhala Work, etc."—Miss Watson of Maunaloa.
- 11.—"Sewing in Hawaiian Schools."—Miss E. dos Reis of Paia.
- 12.—"Hawaiian Solis."—D. D. Baldwin of Hamakua.
- 13.—Reports of District Circles.
- 14.—Election of Officers.

Nearly every number was worthy of compliment. Mr. Kellinof recommended the use of myths and legends in teaching Maui geography and for example he read several most unique stories of Maui mythology.

Miss Watson showed some very pretty specimens of lauhala, bamboo and fern braiding, the handiwork of Maunaloa pupils. Several of the Seminary girls were present and while Miss Watson was talking were deftly braiding, beginning, half-finished or completing different articles made of pretty woody fibres.

Miss dos Reis also during her talk exhibited some good specimens of sewing, outlining in red cotton and draw-work by pupils of the Paia school. Discussions followed nearly every subject presented. A dainty lunch provided by the lady teachers of Makawao was served between 12:30 and 1:30 p. m.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The election of officers resulted as follows: W. C. Crook, president; Miss Charlotte Turner, vice-president; S. Kellinof, secretary; Miss Mary E. Fleming, Messrs. W. E. Reavis and C. W. Baldwin, executive committee.

The next meeting of the association will probably be held in the new Maunaloa Seminary soon to be constructed at Sunnyside, Paia. The meeting adjourned at 4:30 p. m.

COURT AT LAHAINA

At Lahaina the foreign jury is still busy trying numerous cases. The panel was exhausted on Thursday, the 7th, and talesmen were summoned—several from across the mountain. This occurred in drawing the jury for the Kula murder case.

THE MAKANA CHINESE

The Makana Chinese whose arrest followed the seizure of fifteen tons of opium in his house was not tried at Wailuku during the week—Judge McKay being at Naha and Judge Kellekai being absent.

WAREHOUSE COLLAPSE

On the 2nd instant a large guano warehouse of Alexander & Co. at Wailuku suddenly collapsed. Fortunately no one was in the building at the time. There were 9,000 bags of guano stored in the warehouse, which proved too heavy for the floor giving way and pulling the roof down. The warehouse was saved by one hundred feet in size. The guano was again piled near the warehouse of the H. C. Co. the next day.

FEARS FOR PARK COLUSA

Some fear that the bark Colusa, which is being towed by the bark Kula, will be lost at sea. The bark Colusa is a large bark, and is being towed by the bark Kula, which is a small bark. The bark Colusa is a large bark, and is being towed by the bark Kula, which is a small bark. The bark Colusa is a large bark, and is being towed by the bark Kula, which is a small bark.

is thought to be the Colusa, in as much as the keel was missing from the bottom of the wreck and it is recalled that the Colusa lost her "shoe" on the reef not far from Spreckelsville.

Auditor G. H. Robertson came to Maui this week per "Claudine" and is a guest of Manager D. C. Lindsay of Paia plantation.

During the 6th J. R. Decoto of Spreckelsville returned from the Coast with a bride. Mr. Decoto is a brother of W. L. Decoto, a well-known resident of Lahaina.

The Makawao Polo Club will hold a tournament and other festivities on the Sunnyside grounds during Christmas.

It is reported that Wailuku and Makawao districts are not in favor of the proposed change in school sessions.

SUGAR STATISTICS

Hawaiian Stocks in San Francisco Sustained.

No Changes in Raw Sugar Market—Refined Has a Fair Demand—Situation Unchanged.

The following sugar statistics are deduced from the Financial Letter of December 1st:

The share market is rather quiet, still prices have been well sustained. The sugar stocks are strongly held. Hawaiian opened at 92½, sold up to 94 and closed at 92½. The directors of this company met on December 12, and, we are informed on good authority, declare a dividend payable December 20. The amount will be 50c per share per month.

Hutchinson's crop for the campaign ending September 30 was 500 tons in excess of the estimate. It was very lightly dealt in during the week.

Makawell was weak. It sold down to 44½, and closed at 45. The reports from the islands are very satisfactory. Onomea was quiet. A few shares were sold at 34½.

Pauha closed at 32. Honolulu was very quiet. It sold at 32½ and 33½. This company is in a very prosperous condition. It is expected that its dividend will be increased to 50 cents next year.

Hana sold at 94. In regard to the statistical position of the sugar market, Willett & Gray, November 23, said:

"Stocks in Europe, 537,500 tons, against 529,144 tons last week, and 608,129 tons last year. Total stocks of Europe and America, 741,742 tons, against 738,542 tons last week, and 739,132 tons last year at the same even dates and 732,059 tons at even date of October 1st last year. The excess of stock is 2,610 tons, against an excess of 6,239 tons last week, and a deficiency of 102,311 tons December 29, 1898."

In regard to the raw sugar market, they stated:

"With the exception of a few small-sized parcels of the several grades raw sugar the business of the week has been devoid of any interest. More business would have been done if more sugars for sale, but the receipts contained sugars only which had been previously sold for arrival. Quotations remain unchanged at 4½c per pound for 98-degree test centrifugals, and all indications point to a continued firm and steady market now that foreign sweet sugars appear to have touched a solid bottom at 9s for 88-degree analysis, and slightly improved, notwithstanding that Mr. Licht raised his estimate of the best crop 100,000 tons. This increase was foreshadowed in our mail advices given herewith, and is of no special importance on crop conditions. Sugars are at such a low level now that a few tons more in expected supplies have lost their influence, while any considerable reduction in crop tons would exert an influence at once."

With reference to refined sugar, they state:

"With exception of the per pound reduction in crushed sugar by the A. S. R. Co. who alone make this grade there is no change to note in the quotations for refined sugar. The demand is not fairly good."

RACE LINE DRAWN

Warren's Negro Office s Mess Alone.

"Day Will be a Big Row Raised in Washington, Sho"—Full Relations on the Tr report.

There are many stories of race prejudice told on the army transport Warren in regard to the distinctions made between the white and colored officers, and the manner in which their messes were served. Soon after leaving San Francisco, it was evident that at least in the dining saloon the racial line would be drawn. As soon as the first gong sounded the white officers quietly made their way to the saloon and occupied all the seats at the table. When the second gong sounded the colored officers found that there was no place for them at the first table and they were compelled to await the pleasure of the white officers and eat at the second table.

THEY SAW THE COLONEL.

The colored officers endured this state of affairs for a few days until they were certain there was a premeditated design to keep them at a distance. Then one of the colored officers sought out the Colonel and asked: "Colonel, tell me why is this distinction made?" The colored officer further punctuated his remarks by stating: "Colonel, day will be a big row raised in Washington when this effort at distinction among the officers becomes known, dat's sho?"

Perhaps there will if the facts are fully borne out, as an officer's shoulder straps give him equal rights and privileges, whether he is white or colored, the army regulations prescribing rigid observance of respect and deference from other officers and soldiers alike.

DISCIPLINE AND FOOD.

The colored officers maintain a fine discipline among their soldiers, and the Warren is one of the few transports on which gambling among the soldiers has not been allowed, as far as the Forty-ninth Regiment is concerned. Shortly after leaving San Francisco the company officers searched the men and their belongings and confiscated about a half of crap dice, and even card playing was discontinued.

In the issuance of food, the colored officers managed to be present and narrowly kept watch to see that every man received what he is entitled to according to army regulations. This is a part of an officer's duty which has been sadly neglected in other regiments en route to the Philippines, and gave rise to many unpleasant scandals on account of deficient rations being distributed. The colored officers, having been soldiers in the ranks themselves and appreciating the discomforts and abuses which fall to the lot of the private, have been most active in seeing to it personally that no short rations are issued.

TOO HASTY BURIALS.

An Undertaker Protests Against Island Funeral Customs.

"There is something uncanny," said O. H. Harlan, who has had a long experience East in the undertaking business, "about the way people are thrust underground here a few hours after they are dead, or are supposed to be. Very likely the custom started either with the natives or if among the whites, at a time when Honolulu had no ice or other modern methods of preservation. It is not necessary even without ice to be in so much haste about burials. Time enough ought to be taken to make perfectly sure that life has departed. No inconsiderable number of people, the world over, are buried alive. I remember once being called to embalm the body of a young woman whom a doctor had pronounced dead of syncope. I did not like the looks of things and in the course of the day I thought I detected some muscular action of the heart. That evening I sat by the body for an hour. The hands had been folded across the breast and as I looked I saw the right arm slowly move until it rested by the side. I placed it back and it moved again. Then I called the doctor, but he was incredulous until he tried his instruments and found that I was right! We placed the young woman in hot water and worked over her two hours. She came to slowly and spoke, saying: 'Don't bury me.' All the time she had been in a partial trance, conscious of the preparations made for her burial. A year after that experience she married and is alive yet for all I know."

A decent respect for the dead should prompt less haste in the matter of burial and not only that but a decent present estate should be secured. No one can be sure of death and I often see people appear. It is time enough then to turn the body over to the community."

A Michigan Miracle

Speech Restored after Nearly 13 Years.

The Ypsilanti Commercial, Ypsilanti, Mich. Many things appear miraculous that are really the result of natural laws, the workings of which can be accurately predicted. A striking example of this occurred in a prominent Michigan family recently, and there can be no question as to the truthfulness of the narrative since it is attested by Mrs. Harriet Begole, of Ypsilanti, Mich., a sister-in-law of Mr. Joshua Begole, who was Governor of Michigan in 1883-4. Mrs. Begole said:

"In 1888 I suffered from a severe illness, during which my voice left me and I did not speak above a whisper for nearly 13 years."

"I was treated by five local physicians and afterward consulted leading specialists of New York. They diagnosed my case as partial paralysis, stating that the left side of my throat was entirely paralyzed, the right side partially so. For nearly eight years I have suffered from a severe stomach disorder and about a year ago I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People."

"My stomach trouble was relieved, my general health became greatly improved and to my surprise I regained control of my vocal organs. I have used five boxes of the pills and last November I spoke aloud for the first time in almost 13 years. I am now 71 years of age and have full control of my voice."

NEED FOR HOSPITALS

LEARY WANTS MEN

A HONOLULU NEED

The Present System Condemned — Views of Housekeepers on the Sources of Help.

Another lady says that she will not have Japanese female servants in the house because they are so unreliable and dirty. "I seldom ever got a Japanese woman who would stay with me for more than a few weeks and then always takes two or three more before I can fill her place. What we need is a reliable intelligence office in Honolulu run by white men, who will furnish good servants and no others. Such an office will be patronized by every housewife in Honolulu."

FORGOT TO SALUTE.

The demand of the Secretary of the Navy for eighteen new ships of war has been a curious reading beside the report made four months before the Spanish war broke out. Then he said that the limit of American naval development had almost been reached, one ship would do. With over thirty new craft building now and half as many requisitioned, the Secretary's ideas of proper war marine for the United States must have come into the general scheme of expansion.

THE BELGIAN HARE

A Pest it is Proposed to Import.

This Animal is a Pest Produces Six Six Litters Annually.

Local interest in the Belgian hare is stimulated by the news that somebody is about to import a few pairs for experiment in these islands. The questions what is the Belgian hare, how does it differ from other hares, how fecund is it and what are its good and bad points? deserve the answer they have so far failed to get.

This new idea in hares is the product of cross-breeding between the English wild hare and the red hare of Belgium, with divers subsidiary breedings for points. The result is the best that can be expected from the genus lepus. In Los Angeles everybody who has a back yard is raising the Belgian cross. A writer of that city tells about it as follows:

Being a new thing the hare of course attracts attention. But besides the novelty it is also a beautiful animal, sleek, compact, nimble, fleet, with movements like a race horse, and of a rich rufous red color. It is docile, affectionate, and makes the most pleasing of pets. It is a cleanly beast, requires less space to herd than any other animal of its size, and will eat any vegetation consumed by the granivora. Potato parings, carrot tops and cabbage leaves from the kitchen, which even poultry will not peck, are voraciously nibbled by the bunnies and they thrive on such provender.

But the quality surpassing all others which has lifted the Belgian hare into a vast popularity in Los Angeles is its excellence as a table delicacy. As flesh for food this variety of hare takes its place beside the coveted bullfrog a la Francaise, and is as far in advance of spring chicken as is a celery-eating canvasback duck beyond a gray goose. The flesh is white-grained, juicy, tender and of a most savory flavor. It has none of the rankness or toughness so characteristic of the prairie rabbit and especially accentuated in the jack rabbit. A roast stuffed and basted Belgian surpasses either roast pig or roast turkey and is essentially an epicurean dish.

For a long time after their introduction into Los Angeles they were not offered for consumption at any price, the demand for them for breeding purposes being so great as to call for all that any one having them was willing to dispose of. Some table connoisseurs procured the flesh at $1 per pound, a price which brought the average hare up to $8, and for six months, perhaps, the ruling price of a dressed animal in Los Angeles was $1 per pound, a price in excess of any other flesh food excepting real sweetbreads.

Now, however, since the animal has become more common, and he has begun to appear on the stalls and stands of butchers and green grocers, the price has fallen to 20 and 15 cents per pound, at which there are tons of them sold daily in the city and the supply by no means equals the demand.

IMMENSE FECUNDITY

Besides the flesh qualities, the beauty and character of the animal, the ease with which it is raised in small space, its entire freedom from vermin and its remarkable indisposition to disease, stands its marvelous fecundity. In this respect it parallels the guinea pig. The doe breeds at the age of eight months, gestates in thirty days, and brings forth from six to fourteen young which gain a pound a month from birth until their eighth month. The doe suckles the young thirty days, after which she again breeds, and so produces six litters a year, which at an average of eight to the litter would be forty-eight hares per year, yielding 384 pounds of meat.

A Los Angeles newspaper published a statement that one hare which came under its notice "last year produced 480 pounds of meat," and declares this feat to be not extraordinary. The same paper, indulging in a little geometrical extravagance, perhaps, remarks upon the possibilities of a single pair of hares as follows: "Allowing to one pair of hares only six litters a year and but eight to the litter, such would in five years aggregate the enormous total of 4,305,181.682 shares. Allowing each hare only two square yards of space, there would be required to accommodate the above number 278 square miles of land. Allowing an equal amount of land for the purpose of raising alfalfa to feed the hares, we have a total of 556 square miles, an area almost equal to that of Orange county. At only $1 each the owner of these hares could buy all of Orange county, including all improvements and could then build the Nicaragua canal, pay off the public debt of the United States, build 100 first-class battle-ships, give $25 to each man, woman and child in the United States, and still have left a fortune of $1,000,000,000."

VALUABLE FOR FUR

Aside from their qualities as flesh producers, the Belgian hare is valuable for its fur. The beautiful soft and glossy red coat can be turned to a thousand uses for which the fur of animals is available. They make attractive ladies' coats and have been even manufactured into fur slippers. But the greatest use for the Belgian hare is the manufacture of hats, especially those of the "tut" variety, in which the skin as well as the fur is used. Formerly hundreds of thousands of rabbit skins came annually to San Francisco from Australia and were from there distributed over the country to the various hat-making centers. The bulk of them going to St. Louis. Recently, however, the importations from the Antipodes have slackened and the manufacturers are appealing to California suppliers to turn to their rabbit resources in this State, and several have undertaken expeditions into the San Joaquin and other valleys to procure rabbits to supply this demand.

Experience, however, has shown that the rabbit captured in the rabbit drives which annually take place in a few of the interior counties is generally unfitted for the hatter's use. Their hides are torn by dogs, or the clubbing which the men give them to kill them renders it unfit for use. The hatters look, therefore, with satisfaction and joy upon the rise and spread of the Belgian hare industry, and await the pelts which, above all others, are to enable them to produce the finest textured and most elegant of hats.

It Is a Big Gam.

The gross receipts of the St. Clement's Fair amounted to $1,364.85, and the expenses $310.45, which leaves a net profit of $1,054.40. The Treasurer will send by mail to all the ladies who have been working for the fair, a detailed statement of the various accounts. The ladies have left on hand goods amounting to nearly $200 which will be held over for some future sale.

NATITE SHOPLIFTERS.

Successful Attempt to Carry off Goods on Nuanu Street.

A successful case of shoplifting is reported from a Chinese store on Nuanu street on Saturday night. Two Hawaiian girls entered the store and engaged the attention of the two Chinese clerks and had them display a quantity of their wares. In the meantime two more Hawaiians came in and walked about the store, evidently waiting their turn to look over the goods. Both men finally started for the door, but the quick eye of the celestial owner of the shop saw one of his new straw hats surmounting the head of one of the Kanakas.

Giving a yell and a cry for the police, the shopkeeper darted after the thief. Everybody started on the run down the street, the Chinaman in full pursuit, but was unsuccessful in overtaking the men. The girls who were in the scheme took the opportunity offered by the flight and escaped.

A Study of Population say last evening at the Association upon "A Study of Population Question in which the following is:

The decline of population has attracted the attention of all countries, especially that of the French. Probably no country has more eminent economists, statisticians, for such study is congenial to the logical turn of the French. The threatened decadence of the French Republic has profoundly stirred all patriots, especially since the war was taken, and has called for a number of able articles and of France increases only 000 a year, including a certain number of foreigners. Since the population of Great Britain has risen from eight to thirty millions, while that of France has doubled.

DECLINE OF THE POPULATION

Taking the increase of population in France for periods of each, we find that it was 1876, 802,867; 1876 a. 200; 1881 and 1886, 546,9 1891, a decrease of 23,7 1896, an increase of 133,81 is about equal to that of 1893, being three months.

CONSEQUENCES

The French historians progressive decline in rank of their country an opinion powers during centuries. Under Louis France with her nineteenth inhabitants contained 1, the population of the thirteenth—France, Great Britain man Empire. In 1789 France came one of the four great powers of the world, which France then represented. In 1815, after the Napoleonic war, France was reduced to a second rank. In 1890 the adm had raised the number of French to six, and reduced to about the part of France with Germany, while Germany counted in as the seventh power in the proportion of France.

FACTORS OF SUCH

Prof. Alexander, in discussing the factors of the situation, "marriage rate," the "birth rate," and the cost of child the subject of marriage the birth rate of France is very high, reaching 25 per cent in the first year of a century, the death rate of the country districts found that the former third higher than the principal causes of this rate are the greater struggle for life, unemployment, and other

OTHER CAUSES

The various economic factors specifically set forth inheritance, society, race laws, city life, disability, and France largely quoted from facts cited.

CONCLUSIONS

To conclude, a study of the population must admit that the factors which we have are those of a decadence, there is ample evidence that the part of patriots are not yet lost. France in the past has been referred to by the great speech. A nation of the future which is the richest and most intellectual activity, science and art, is one in modern civilization, displayed such extraordinary power under a hastily despaired of, yet arrived to write "I
